SPEAKER 1: There are all these signs she's not doing well.

ERICA: It's embarrassing.

SPEAKER 1: She's been distracted and disorganized.

ERICA: There's no one I can talk to.

SPEAKER 1: Someone needs to pay attention.

JACK: Something's going on, but I think it's best not to make assumptions about her.

SPEAKER 1: I think it's safe to assume that she might need some help. You are her supervisor. You have a legitimate reason to ask her how she's doing.

JACK: What if she doesn't want my help?

SPEAKER 1: It doesn't mean she doesn't need help.

JACK: I'm not the right person to talk to her. I always say the wrong thing. If something is seriously wrong, I don't want to make it any worse.

SPEAKER 1: You can do this, Jack.

JACK: Erica, is it OK if I sit down? Can you tell me a little bit about how things have been going?
