Sports Clearance Process INSTRUCTIONS and FORM

Your Sports Medicine team

Welcome student athletes participating in NCAA intercollegiate sports. The Sports Medicine team at Cornell Health specializes in sports clearance, sports injuries, and other injuries and illnesses that affect Cornell's intercollegiate athletes. We work closely with coaches, athletic trainers, nutritionists, and team orthopedists to help keep student athletes healthy and performing at their peak.

The sports clearance process and deadlines

Cornell requires every athlete to receive a formal medical clearance each year. Follow these instructions thoroughly to complete your requirements by the deadline. You will not be able to participate with your team until you complete this process.

DEADLINES: Fall 2019 entrants: June 14 Spring 2020 entrants: December 20

Fall 2019 transfer students: July 31

Next steps

1. Check myCornellHealth.

After you complete all of your requirements, the Sports Medicine Team will begin the medical review process. If we require further information or action from you, we will contact you via your new Cornell email address and direct you to myCornellHealth. (You can get to it from any page on the Cornell Health website: health.cornell.edu.) When you receive an email directing you to myCornellHealth, go right away to read your secure message.

2. Check your Athletic Compliance and Eligibility profile.

Your team will be scheduled at a specific time for Sports Clearance at Cornell Health. A few days prior to your team's assigned clearance date, please check your Athletic Compliance and Eligibility profile. If you are pre-cleared, you do not have to report to Cornell Health on the day of your team's Sports Clearance. If you are not pre-cleared, you must report to Cornell Health with other members of your team.

3. Once on campus, you will meet with an athletic trainer to complete the SCAT 3 Neuropsych exam.

This meeting will be scheduled after you arrive at Cornell and is a required part of the medical clearance process.

4. Contact us if you have any questions or concerns.

If you need more information or have any concerns about your health and well-being, please talk with your athletic trainer or contact the Sports Medicine team at 607.255.5156 (search "Sports Medicine" at health.cornell.edu).

Impact Concussion Baseline Test INSTRUCTIONS

The ImPACT Concussion Baseline Test is a test of cognitive function including memory and reaction time. It is NOT a measure of intelligence. The purpose of the test is to have this information available for comparison in the event that you have a head injury or concussion during your season. It is a valuable tool for supporting the recovery of athletes after such an injury.

1. When should I take the test?

- All entering intercollegiate athletes must complete the ImPACT test prior to your sports clearance at Cornell Health.
- We recommend that you do it as soon as possible.

2. What are the computer requirements for taking the test?

Please note that if the computer you use does not adhere to these requirements, your results may not be accurate, and you will need to repeat the test.

- You must use an external mouse to take this test; do not use a laptop touchpad.
- Your computer screen must be 12 inches or larger.
- You need a broadband Internet connection.
- Make sure you are using either the current version or the immediately previous version of your browser (Internet Explorer, Firefox, Chrome, or Safari).
- You must have Adobe Flash Player 11.0 or newer installed. You can download Flash Player at adobe.com.
- If you have a pop-up blocker installed, you must turn it off for the duration of the test.
- Your browser must accept cookies.
- JavaScript must be enabled in your browser.
- If you are running Windows 7, make sure power management is set to High Performance; otherwise performance may be slowed, negating test scoring.
- Close all other programs on your computer before taking the test.

3. How long will the test take?

The test takes 25-30 minutes for most students, although the system allows users up to 45 minutes for completion.

4. How do I get started?

- Preparation: To ensure the most accurate results, give this test your full attention. Turn off cell phones, music, and TV, and eliminate other background noises and distractions. Take the test when you are well-rested. Attempting to take the test when you are tired or distracted may interfere with the results.
- Log on: Go to www.impacttestonline.com/colleges. Select "New York" when prompted to enter your organization. Then, click on "Launch Baseline Test." You will be prompted to enter your "Customer ID Code." Enter: C913B27570.
- Identification: Use your given name (no nicknames).
- Initial questions: You will be directed to a series of questions before taking the test. Please answer all of the questions as honestly as possible.
- Test instructions: Follow all instructions carefully. Missing key instructions or not giving the test your full attention will affect your results. Having accurate baseline information will be very important in assessing and supporting your recovery in the event of a head injury or concussion.
- Put in your best effort. Be as quick and accurate as possible, as the tests measure both memory and reaction time. This is a hard test. No one gets everything right, so don't get frustrated. Your results will be reviewed and the test will be repeated if your results are not consistent. No one fails the test, but we strive to get a representative baseline for comparison should you have a head injury. If a third test is required, this will be done as a monitored test once you are on campus.

5. What do I do after I complete the test?

You do not need to do anything further. If you have questions regarding the test or if you were unable to complete the test, please notify your coach or athletic trainer; or you may call Cornell Health Sports Medicine at 607.255.5156.

L. STUDENT ATHLETE AUTHORIZATION FOR DISCLOSURE OF PERSONAL HEALTH INFORMATION

Background information

The Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996, requires that we guard the privacy of your protected health information. You have a right to confidential treatment of all information and records pertaining to your care. If you sustain an injury or have a condition or illness that might be affected by or interfere with your participation in intercollegiate athletics at Cornell University, it is important to understand that we may need to discuss your injury, condition or illness with your coaches, parents, and/or other people involved in your care.

Authorization

- I hereby authorize the certified athletic training staff, team physicians, and Cornell Health providers to disclose my personal health information for the following purposes:
 - 1. To discuss my injury/illness and treatments in relation to athletic participation with coaching staff, athletic training staff and other athletic staff so that they may make decisions regarding my ability to compete in athletics.
 - 2. To discuss my injury/illness and treatments in relation to athletic participation with my parent(s) and /or guardian(s) provided; however, at any time I am able to revoke this part of the authorization by providing written notices to the athletic trainer providing my care and the health records manager at Cornell Health.
 - 3. To discuss my injury/illness and treatments with community specialists to whom I may be referred for further evaluation.
 - 4. In certain circumstances, to advise the media sideline reporters asking for injury updates; however, at any time I am able to revoke this part of the authorization by providing written notices to the athletic trainer providing my care and to the team coach.
- I understand that this authorization will expire upon exhaustion of athletic eligibility under NCAA rules.
- To protect my privacy, I understand that only the minimum amount of health information necessary will be released.
- I understand that refusing to sign this authorization or revoking this authorization (with the exception of the limited revocation referred to in #2 and #4 above) means my clearance to participate in my sport(s) may be withdrawn.
- I understand that my provider may not refuse to treat me if I refuse to sign this authorization.
- I understand that certain entities that receive health information may not be considered health care providers or health plans covered by federal privacy regulation, and that the information disclosed to such an entity may no longer be protected by the federal privacy regulation.

I verify by my signature that I understand and agree with the terms of this student athlete authorization.
